The Clique Summer Collection

Will Claire's Florida BFFs become former BFFs? Back in Orlando for the summer, Claire is reunited with her Florida best friends, Sarah, Sari, and Mandy, after a long year apart. Her FBFs haven't changed at all. Too bad they think Claire has . . . and not for the better. Claire sets out to prove her loyalty by entering Kissimmee's Miss Kiss pageant. But when a very special visitor shows up and vows to win the crown, Claire finds herself torn between Keds and couture. Will Claire finally kiss-immee her past goodbye-once and for all?

I didn't really like the Clique Summer Collection books. It just wasn't the same w|o the rest of the members of the Clique. I understand it was supposed to be their own adventures over the summer but most of them were mushy & kind of weird? It's not the same kind of drama & tension that I enjoy while reading the Clique Series. It was an appealing book, but not as good as the others. I didn't like it TOO much. Claire is a 12 year old girl that has a real passion for fashion.

Claire finishes her school year and decides to get a job so that she can buy a new back to school wardrobe, except that no one wants a 12 year old little girl. "Todd was the only one in town willing to hire a twelve year-old" (The clique pg.2). Claire's brother Todd decides to give his little sister a paid job at his store even though she is not very certain that he is going to pay her. "Depending on her younger brother for a pay" Claire is a 12 year old girl that has a real passion for fashion.

Claire finishes her school year and decides to get a job so that she can buy a new back to school wardrobe, except that no one wants a 12 year old little girl. "Todd was the only one in town willing to hire a twelve year-old" (The clique pg.2). Claire's brother Todd decides to give his little sister a paid job at his store even though she is not very certain that he is going to pay her. "Depending on her younger brother for a paycheck would become less pathetic" (the clique pg. 2). Claire is very annoyed that her brother is her boss but will she stand it for the rest of the summer?

Claire's Fbfff (Florida best friends forever) are Sari, Mandy, and Sarah. They each have glitter colors, Sari is the pink, Mandy is the blue, Sarah the orange and Claire the green. Claire's nicknames are most of the time either Claire-Bear, Bad Pitt or green from her glitter color but the most popular one is Claire-bear. Since Claire moved everything changed in her world of beauty and she started to care a lot about her appearance. "Back to the place before she moved, a place where lip gloss was saved only for class pictures, blush was for Halloween and body odor was perfectly natural" (the clique pg.4). Will her perfection world ever change back to how it was or will she be like this forever?

Claire had a sister that was the complete opposite of her: she would wear a little bit of lip gloss and brush her blonde hair on special occasions but that was all she would do to try to look pretty. Claire's room is covered with pictures of girls in sleeping bags, cheering at a soccer match, piled in a range rover, carving a Chanel logo with snow, going to Hollywood studios with private jets and Vogue poses with her idol Massie-quin. "The cheery white and green floral prints had been poked with push-pins that held dozens of pretty committee photos" (the clique pg.5). Claire had also hanged a picture of her ex-crush Cam Fisher (the green eyes) but had made a pact to not look at it until he answered one of the billion sorry letters she had sent him. "I'm sorry for spying on you through secret camera that was planted in your sensitivity training class and I will never do something like that again if you give me a second chance" (the clique pg.6). Will Cam give Claire a second chance?

Since the girls met each other, all they talk about is "The Miss Kissimmee Beauty Pageant". When Claire was away, she completely forgot about it but now that she is twelve, they can compete. Claire does not really want to do it because she knows that it broke a lot of friendships and it is the last thing she needs right now after being away for a year. A long time ago, a pair of twins competed and it broke their friendship to this day.

When Mandy texted Claire telling her that the winner gets $1,000, she changed her mind. "What's a little healthy competition between friends?" (Harrison Pg. 14). She does not get enough money working for Todd and she needs that money to buy her back to school wardrobe or else she might get kicked out of the pretty committee.

Claire loves Mrs. Van Deussen's Petite Chihuahua, Piper.

When they were in the bus, Claire was talking to Piper which must have seemed very weird since the girls behind were looking and laughing. Claire was telling Piper that she wished she could have such an easy life and be so loved like her. When Mrs. Van Deussen put the air conditioner on, Piper was shivering. Claire told her that she understood her because she lived in the snow for a year. "I know how you feel Piper" (Harrison Pg. 8). Claire wished she could adopt this little Chihuahua.

Claire is so happy to be back in Florida and to see her friends and everything she had left to go to Westchester.

She was taking pictures of everything she saw.

Massy told her that they were so happy to be SACS again

(Sari, Amandy, Claire, Sarah) and not SAS. Amandy's real name is Mandy but she says Amandy makes her look 16 and not 12.

Going back to the Pageant, Claire needed to take the risk of breaking her friendship to get the money because either way if she is kicked out of the pretty committee they will not be friends with her anymore. Working for her brother isn't going to take her anywhere. "It wouldn't get her any closer of a Massie approved wardrobe" (Harrison Pg. 12)

She has to do it for The Pretty Committee (TPC).

Claire and her friends are so happy to be part of the pageant. They went shopping all together to find the perfect dress. When she lived in Florida SACS always liked the same things but now Claire has changed and is part of the pretty committee. Sari tried on a dress and Claire immediately said "EW! EW!". Sari and all her friends told her she had changed. So even if Claire lied to them by saying that EW meant extremely wearable in Westchester, she got her friends back. SAS asked Claire to prove it by buying the dress and wearing it to the pageant. Claire had worked so hard to get the money for a dress to wear to the pageant and now she had to buy this farmers' dress with puppies on it.

She had a solution: she asked Todd to dress up and throw coffee on her dress in front of SAS so that she would have an excuse to wear the signed dresses that Massie had sent her. When Todd threw the coffee, it first arrived on Sari's dress, he tried again and again and again, and all the dresses were touched except Claire's. Now she had lost all of her friends, still had that ugly dress and Todd had put the video on youtube and it got a lot of success and that was another reason for the girls to be mad. The next day, when Claire went to the pageant selections, SAS did not show up. Was it because they were mad at her or because they did not have anything left to wear? What had she done and why did she do it?

The next day, a lot of things that she absolutely did not expect happened. SACS were hanging in Claire's room when someone knocked at the door. It was Massie! What was she doing here? Massie said her parents had left for Mexico and she had no where to stay. After that, the girls went to the pageant and Lorna, the judge, asked Claire something that changed her life. Lorna asked Claire to be the celebrity judge of Miss Kiss because everybody loved her for her movie "Dial L for looser". The girls directly went back to be friends with her again, even though Claire knew it was just because she was one of the Judges.

Between SAS and Massie everything was going wrong. They hated each other. Claire had to lie to them all day to hang out a little bit with the other ones. Even though she was not allowed to help the contestants, she promised both of them she would help them. Massie decided to be part of the pageant too because the girls told her she wouldn't even last the first round.

The first round of the pageant was quick answer to questions. Everyone did very well except Sari. She said that she answered better when she got pinched, so she took a crab from her dads' restaurant so that it pinched her during the questions. It was a disaster, the crab ran off the stage and pinched everyone.

When it was time to discover who the five finalists were, Claire's heart almost bursted. "And the five finalists are", Lorna continued Gracie, Sarah, Amandy, Wendi and Massie. Claire felt so bad for Sari who was probably backstage covered with scars that were made by that crab. Now the five finalists had to put up a show about their biggest issues in the world. "Please step up and share your issue with us" (Harrison 106). Now it was time for her best friends to really compete against each other, there were no turning back.

"First up Gracie" Lorna said as the public applauded, "my issue is obesity in america" she said while preparing herself to put up the show.

Then it was Sarah's turn, "my issue is the earthquakes scientists predict in thirty years", she said while she was vibrating and dancing like an earthquake. Sarah fell and hurt herself, so she got eliminated while Amandy was laughing so hard. Then it was Wendi's turn, "my issue is terrorism" she said in her mini skirt and crop top. "Does she want to fight terrorists or seduce them" said one of the judges. (Harrison 109). Massie went on stage and said that her issue was make up testing on animals. The crowd applauded their approval.

Finally it was Amandy's turn. She went on stage. Claire wanted to move the fan a little closer but it got trapped to the stage and the fan went right on Amandy's face and ruined all her chances of winning.

Now it was time for Claire to vote for the final Miss Kiss. It was Amandy's dream since the day they met but it would make the judges suspicious. If she voted for Sari or Sarah it wouldn't make sense. The only one that was left was Massie but it would tear her friendship up. The only thing that seemed fair was voting for Gracie so that is what she did. Amanda directly sent a message saying that all that she did to help them was a plan to help Massie win. "Admit it U wanted us to loose so that your BFF Massie could win" (Harrison 117). Amandy, who was mad at Claire showed the message that said everything that she had done to help the SAS and Massie to the judges which meant that Claire was kicked out of the Judges and her vote did not count. ...more

As the title suggest, this Clique Summer Collection novel is supposedly centered on Claire, but in reality, it's actually a novel focused on both Massie and Claire, which makes it disappointing for those readers actually intrigued by Claire's backstory. Yet, as initially displeasing as this may be, readers quickly come to realize that hidden behind Mrs. Lisi Harrison's unconventional pairing is a beneficial moral. That is, that it's better to prioritize quality over quantity, especially when it comes time to friendship. ...more

Of itself, I guess this book wasn't the worst thing ever, but I couldn't stand Claire's old friends. If these were the people she hung out with before the first book, no wonder she was so entitled. These guys were insufferable.

Ok, so technically I am cheating, but I really wanna finish the reading challenge.

Happy New Year!

Massie is just as much of a bad friend as the FLBR's.

3.75. Probably my favorite of the summer collection. my problem remains always and forever the same thing with Claire. She lets people walk all over her so they'll like her.

Altogether, this was a good book. I did get a little lost during some parts but I liked the book.

Interesting twists.

Claire has returned to Orlando for the summer which she spends working for her little brother in order to save up money for wardrobe when she returns back to Westchester. When she reunites with her old friends they keep pressing the issue that Claire has changed since moving. Then, when she is forced to wear a dress she loathes for the Miss Kiss pageant she has Todd ruin all of the groups' gowns, but she gets busted for her scheme and the girls leave infuriated. The next day they won't even speak to her; however, they welcome her once more when she is anointed as a judge for the pageant due to her being the star for Dial L for Loser. Then, when at home a box filled with Massie's clothes arrives totally confusing Claire, but she plays it off like Massie sent them as a gift and so the group goes through them carelessly making Claire feel uneasy especially when Massie herself walks in through the door. She has arrived by surprise to stay with Claire for the rest of the summer. She is pretty upset about the Claire's friends trashing her clothes and the Massie and that group totally don't get along. Then, at a party for the pageant the group challenge Massie saying she wouldn't even make it through the first round of the pageant, so she flashes her purple streak and gets in the pageant. Claire is torn as she doesn't know how to be impartial when judging the competition, and though she really isn't suppose to tries to help them all equally in preparation for the pageant though Massie refuses like the alpha she is any help Claire offers except in her gown choice. When, the pageant begins Claire is set on giving the girls all 8s so it's clear she is impartial. But things run amuck and all of her Florida friends eventually lose the pageant as they took Claire's corrections and thus they failed in doing so smoothly as Sari ends up with a crab causing havoc, Sarah is pulled off the stage after her dance as they think she's injured though she isn't, and Amandy's scabbed eyebrows from a failed wax show getting her obviously not picked in the final round where they have to pick a winner. In order to be fair Claire votes for Gracie. When texting her FBFFs her texts about how she helped them and voted all 8s and for Gracie in the end are shown to the women in charge who reads them aloud. Claire loses her job as a judge and the cash it came with and total hatred from the FBFFs, Massie, and the rest of Kissimmee, Florida. However, her parents are there to support her and make her come to the ceremony in which the audience will vote between Gracie and Massie. Claire is prevented from voting though she was going to vote for Massie and the press and audience attack her though her family stands by her through it all. Massie is crowned as pageant winner but she gives the title to Gracie as she is a native and wanted the title for all the right reasons. When going to apologize her FBFFs force Claire to choose between them and Massie whom makes it clear that she supposedly knows Claire would pick her, so Claire leaves saying she picked herself. Massie however makes up with Claire and gives her the thousand dollar prize money she earned saying she wants her best friend to not look like a total LBR in the 8th grade. Pleased, Claire embraces her BFF.

The foreshadowing of Massie's arrival was suspenseful, and the complications of the different, conflicting lives of Claire were interesting to see play out. The pageant was a creative way to have these friendships clash. Though Claire lost her FBBFs it was for the better as they were using her. I'm glad she and Massie are BFFs now.

Massie is the first book of the Summer Collection, a group of side stories revolving around the members of the "Pretty Committee" from Lisi Harrison's "The Clique" series of popular and controversial books. Each of the Summer Collection titles follows one of the characters through her summer vacation in between the seventh and eighth grades (or, chronologically, in between Sealed With a Diss and Bratfest At Tiffany's in The Clique series).

Plot: Claire Lyons spends her summer vacation back in Florida. Plot: Claire Lyons spends her summer vacation back in Florida to revisit her old BFFs. Things become complicated when her new BFF Massie Block decides she needs to crash in and steal the show at the Kissimmee Miss Kiss Pageant.

Claire, in many ways, only serves to highlight what is problematic about The Clique as a whole. Even as a mere fictional character, Massie cannot but help herself in stealing all the attention away within the confines of a book named for a completely different character. Her presence becomes overly distracting and indeed, true to her character, is nothing but "me, me, me." Claire reads far more like Massie #2, and carries over all of the problems of that novella.

Positives:

- a relatively short page count means that Claire's (and the reader's) misery doesn't last long
- Reading level: Medium-easy (2 to 3 hours)

Negatives:

- Massie steals the show in a most annoying and unwelcome manner, for both Claire and the reader
- the novella serves to highlight Massie's bullying and brattiness in unhelpfully positive ways

Other similar works by the author:

- The Clique series, of which The Summer Collection compliments
- Alphas, a spin-off series revolving around Skye Hamilton who is introduced in It's Not Easy Being Mean

Similar works by other authors:

- The "Castle Heights" series (Cindy Ella, Geek Charming, Little Miss Red, Wicked Jealous) by Robin Palmer (superior writing and characterization, more positive messages)
- The "Yours Truly, Lucy B. Parker" series by Robin Palmer (superior writing and characterization, more positive messages)

The Clique Summer Collection #5: Claire

- "The A-List" by Zoey Dean (flatter writing, even more negative messages and controversial content)
- "How My Personal, Private Journal Became a National Best-Seller" by Julia DeVillers (more positive messages)
- "Secrets of My Hollywood Life" by Jen Calonita (better narrative, more positive messages)

Other Notes:

- I recommend reading the entire Summer Collection in publication order (Massie, Dylan, Alicia, Kristen, Claire) and in-between Sealed With a Kiss and Bratfest at Tiffany's in the main Clique series. ...more

My Review: I loved reading about Claire's dramatic summer. I thought it was sort of cliché, though, how she couldn't decide which friend to help and ended up basically getting kicked out of her Florida life just to try to keep friendships together. Massie, to me, was just Little Miss "Thang" in this book especially because she behaved like she was way better than everyone in Florida. Yes, she won the MK pageant, but she could have been just a little nicer to Sarah, "Amandy," and Sari (aka SAS). Claire was actually pretty fun in this book to me. She expressed her old Florida self a little, while still tightly hanging on to everything she had learned from the PC that school year in Westchester. Her final choice to pick herself over SAS and Massie was pretty brave to me. I can't say that I would have done the same thing. Overall,

This story is about the last girl to be joined in Massie Block's clique Claire. Claire spends her summer in Orlando with her old friends, But sadly, her friends notice that she has changed, and for worse.

I also learned that people should not try to impress others, if they can't do it without changing, because if you can't please them with yourselves then you can't please them otherwise. 3) I think that the author's writing is very inviting, and relates a lot to the audience she is trying to reach. I also think it is a little persuasive, on trying to get the reader to follow her advice, which is not exactly written out, but put into the story as the moral.

4) I think the author wanted us to take away from the book that being anything but yourself is bad. And anything that you want to be but yourself is bad.

9) This book would be better, if it included why Massie Block was with her instead of being at riding camp, because if you didn't read about Massie first, you wouldn't understand what happened before she came to Orlando. ...more

□This was the first book of the summer series I have read and I don't think it really followed how great the real series is. It wasn't bad but defiantly not the best. Even though I didn't like it as much it still had great description. I could picture everything in my head. I think the book deffinently got better as it went on and the ending was so much better than the beginning. I wish there was more of a surprise though, I could predict the end. Overall, I feel this wasn't Lisi Harrison's best book but deffinently worth reading!
