The Doctrine Of Nullification Refers To

What is Reconciliation and Why is it so Important? Reconciliation is something done by the one who offers it; it is not just something that happens to the estranged people. It is the cross of Christ that reconciles both Jew and Gentile. They are brought near by the blood of Christ. Because of this, Jew and Gentile have access to the Father by one spirit. DOCTRINE OF RECONCILIATION - makarios-online.org Therefore, at the point of faith in Christ, man enjoys the benefits of reconciliation, entering a state of peaceful relations with God. VI. This doctrine was taught in the Old Testament via the peace offerings. Lev. 3. These offerings deal with the work of Christ in relation to the matter of peace or reconciliation. A. W. PINK COLLECTION THE DOCTRINE OF RECONCILIATION The doctrine of reconciliation has much to do with what took place at Calvary, yea apart from that no reconciliation with God had been possible. It is therefore a subject which should warm the hearts of the saints and bow them in adoration at the feet of the Redeemer.
